Lancaster's Progress: From the Year 1798; With the Report of the Finance Committee; For the Year 1810; To Which Is Prefixed an Address of the Committee for Promoting the Royal Lancasterian System; For the Education of the Poor They surround our tables, they surround our beds, they inhabit our nurseries. Our lives; our properties; the minds, and the health of our children, are to an inconceivable degree dependent upon their good or evil qualities. According to the system which Mr. Lancaster has not only established, but already reduced to practice, and of the practical efficacy of which the most satisfactory experience has now been obtained, the children of the poor, before they are old enough to work, can be completely taught the valuable acquirements of reading, writing, and arithmetic, at an expense, even in the metropolis, of little more than five shillings per annum for each. It follows evidently from this most important fact, that by a combination requiring very slender efforts among the benevolent and public-spirited members...
